Sunday Message: Warren Boettcher – 2 Corinthians 2:4-11
God's Power in Our Weakness: Redemptive Discipline

1. What is challenging for you when considering how to help restore someone who is caught in sin?
2. How do you usually respond when you're in a position to share something that someone needs to hear, but could be difficult to bring to him or her? How do you tend to respond when you're on the receiving end of correction or questions related to your sin or weakness that might be difficult to listen to?
3. We are called to be generous in how we love, forgive and comfort others who have offended us, following the same merciful path that God takes in loving us through his son Jesus Christ when we sin. How could this message help you to work hard at either restoring others who have been caught in sin or reconciling with those who may have sinned against you? How do you maintain a biblical unity of the Spirit in the process?
